Biographical Sketch:

David James Meridew (“Jim”) was born on June 18, 1911 in Paris, Ontario, the son of Herbert Witherdon Meridew and Mary Elizabeth Knowles. During the late 1920s Meridew worked with his father on the harvest trains through the prairies, eventually ending up in Kamloops where he gained employment as a gardener at Tranquille Sanatorium. While in Kamloops Meridew met his wife, Rietta Irene Gertrude Smith, who he married on October 6, 1939 in Vancouver, BC. The couple had two children: son David, and daughter Darleen. Shortly after their marriage the family moved to Victoria, BC, where Meridew was employed as a gardener for the Empress Hotel. During World War II he worked at the Esquimalt Shipyards. In 1947 the family moved back to Kamloops, where Meridew was appointed head gardener at Tranquille Sanatorium, a position he would retain until his retirement in 1975. Meridew also enjoyed outdoor activities including camping, hiking, fishing, swimming, and boating. David James Meridew died on July 27, 2009 in Kamloops, BC at the age of 98.
