Title: Benjamin Baltzly Photograph Collection

Dates of Creation: 1871

Physical Description: 26 b&w photographs

Biographical Sketch:

Benjamin F. Baltzly was born in 1835 in Sugar Creek, Ohio. He arrived in Montreal shortly after the end of the American Civil War, where he worked briefly for the photographer J.G. Parks and ran his own studio until he was hired by William Notman in 1868. In June 1871 Baltzly would be delegated to travel with the Geological Survey of Canada led by Aldred R.C. Selwin during its exploration into British Columbia, and would document the journey in his journals and photographs. Baltzly would continue working for Notman Studios until 1877 before making his way to Cambridge, Massachusetts in 1879 to work for Pack Bros. Baltzly then purchased a studio for himself in December 1882, which he would run until his death on June 10, 1883.

William Notman and Son Photographic Studio was founded in 1856 by William Notman in Montreal, Quebec. By 1874 the studio had grown to 55 employees, after seeing great successes in photographing the construction of the Victoria Bridge and the Prince of Wales' visit to Montreal. The Studio produced a variety of photographic products, including hand-painted portraits unique wilderness scenery of recently explored areas, and kept meticulous records of the work compiled by the studios various photographers. After William Notman's death his sons William McFarlane and Charles Frederick continued operations until it was sold to the Associated Screen News in 1935.

Scope and Content:

Fonds consists of photographs taken by Benjamin F. Baltzly and printed by Notman Studio from the Geological Survey of Canada expedition of 1871.
