Biographical Sketch:

James Buie Leighton was born on November 8, 1851 in Scotland, the son of James Leighton and Isabella B. Buie. The family moved to California when Leighton was 3 years old so that his father could run the Nevada mine. After the death of James Leighton (senior) in 1863 the family moved to Victoria, B.C. to live with Isabella B. Leighton's brother, Thomas Buie. In 1865 Leighton had moved to Barkerville with his uncle to run a store, before moving to Lytton in 1871 to work as a clerk. In 1881 Leighton won the contract to carry the weekly mail between Cache Creek and Okanagan Landing, via Kamloops, and he chose to settle at the mid-point of these two destinations near Savona. By 1882 he had established a stage and telegraph office at Savona, and was beginning to put down roots. Leighton married Jane Elizabeth Uren on January 19, 1882 in Clinton, B.C., with whom he had 4 sons (Leslie L., Charles Ewen James, Raymond Findlay, and John Bickford Kirkwood) and 2 daughters (Leslie and Enid Evelyn Kathleen). Leighton established a cattle ranch in Savona, and became involved in local society, becoming Cattlemen's Overseer, Fishery Overseer, and Superintendent of the B.C. Express in 1897 and writing many articles for the local newspaper on history. Leighton also spent time working as a telegraph operator, ferryman, and Indian Agent. In 1921 Leighton sold his Savona ranch to Harry Vassey and retired from the ranching industry. James Buie Leighton died on December 2, 1945 in Kamloops, B.C. at the age of 94.
